A Guide to College Selection

If you're looking for the college that's right for you, we can help.

Selecting a college can be a tough decision. There are so many things to consider: academic programs, the quality of the college, the value it offers, geographic location, campus life, and, of course, college costs and financial aid. This booklet can guide you through the college selection process by providing the information you need to make an informed decision about your college education.

So where do you begin your college search?

- Start with this guide. If you know what you want to study, go to Academic Programs, pages 4-17, which lists bachelor's and associate degree programs offered by private colleges and universities in New York State.
- Use the College Search Worksheet in the College Selection PDF file to help you begin to compile a list (your "long list") of colleges based on your interests. Find out more about them. The Locator Map on pages 2-3 pinpoints geographic locations and the Campus Profiles file, or on-line at www.nycolleges.org, gives you basic information about the colleges on your list.
- Attend college fairs. You can speak with college representatives and pick up literature about different colleges.
- For more information about any college in this guide, fill out the Request for College Information on-line form at www.nycolleges.org/register.html.

Finding, evaluating, and choosing a college requires planning and information – keep an open mind and you're sure to discover a college that suits your needs.

- In your junior and senior years, visit the colleges that interest you. Before you visit, make an appointment to meet with faculty in your academic interest areas. While you're there, take the official tour, walk around on your own, and talk with students.
- Early on, begin to investigate sources of financial aid. Refer to page 18 for ways to get started.
- By fall of your senior year, shorten your college list – usually around five to eight choices.
- If possible, talk to current students or graduates of these colleges. Ask your school counselor and the colleges' admissions counselors for the contact names of students or graduates.
- Now that you've decided on a short list, obtain admissions and financial aid forms. Fill out the forms carefully and be sure to meet all deadlines.

Maybe you have a very specific academic interest. Perhaps you're still searching. Either way, there's a New York State private college or university that's right for you.

Academic Programs

Study anything in New York State!

How to use the Academic Programs Listing

Scan the areas of study below to locate those that interest you. Each is followed by the page numbers where you'll find bachelor's (B) and/or associate (A) degree program listings.

For example, let's say you're interested in a bachelor's degree in French. Programs in Foreign Languages are listed on page 10. The programs are numbered and cross-referenced to the colleges and universities. Look for French, number 5. Next, look down the list of colleges. Highlight or circle all the colleges you find with number 5. You should find 46 colleges that offer a degree program or major area of concentration in French.

The Academic Programs section is a general listing. It includes a broad range of the undergraduate degree programs and major areas of concentration offered by New York's private colleges and universities. Always consult individual campus catalogues to distinguish registered degree programs from areas of concentration offered within larger programs.

Affording Your College of Choice

Now that you've found the college you really want to attend, how do you pay for it?

The first thing is: don't give up on the college of your choice. Even if you think you can't afford it.

Happily, the truth is that anyone who has the desire and the academic credentials can make a college education a reality. Each year, more than $65 billion in aid is available to help families meet college costs. Because New York State private colleges and universities are committed to helping students and their families, you rarely pay the "sticker price." And while your decision to go to college is an investment of time and money, it can cost far less than you think it might. And, the return – for the rest of your life – will be tremendous.

The Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) provides up to $5,000 a year for eligible students from New York State who plan to attend New York State colleges and universities.

Today, most students attending college receive some form of financial assistance. The major sources of financial aid available to families include:

- grants and scholarships from colleges and from federal and state governments;
- loans from the federal government, some colleges, and private lenders;
- job programs on- or off-campus.

New York's private colleges and universities annually award more than $1.6 billion in grants to students – some of that money could be for you.

Typically, a financial aid package includes a combination of grants, scholarships, low-interest loans, and work-study. In addition, there are other sources of aid to investigate:

- benefits offered by employers;
- competitive scholarships from civic and religious organizations;
- scholarships for study in specific academic subjects or toward certain professions.

The bottom line is: money is available for your college education. It's important to explore your options, stay determined, and be aware of deadlines. The result? You're not just going to college, you're going to the college of your choice.

Exploring financial aid options.

To learn more about financial aid, talk with college admission and financial aid counselors. Check your guidance or college office for scholarship announcements. And, use the web to check out these sites. Start early!
